

K-Love provides clean wholesome content that is sensitive to what is going on in the world around us. To lose K-Love stations would set back what the community relies on for a positive connection with others. Words of encouragement are something missing in today's society and being able to provide this for people is the right thing to do.